

Judy Newberry Speaking on Partnership Development between Non-Traditional Lenders and Traditional

Judy Newberry, Chief Compliance Officer and Supervising Partner for Regulatory Compliance, will be speaking at the Lend360 Conference on October 5th in Chicago. The conference takes place from October 5-7th at the Chicago Marriott Magnificent Mile. The session, “Forging Alliances: The Changing Relationship between Alternative Finance Companies and Banks,” will take place at 3:30 pm. Ms. Newberry will be sharing insights regarding documentation and information sharing related to partnership development between non-traditional lenders and traditional banking institutions. Lend360 is the preeminent conference for innovative lenders, including installment lenders, merchant cash advance, auto title, marketplace and peer-to-peer lending. Aldridge Pite’s Regulatory Compliance group represents innovative industry leaders and fintech companies, including startups. Judy Newberry has over thirty years’ experience and advises clients on developing relationships with as well as the onboarding processes for non-traditional lenders partnering with traditional financial institutions. The Regulatory Compliance group performs audits and assists with licensing, renewals, policies and procedures and maintenance of regulator-ready compliance programs. Judy previously worked as the Deputy Commissioner for Legal Affairs at the Georgia Department of Banking & Finance regulating financial institutions doing business in Georgia. She also worked as an attorney with the FDIC. In her current role as the Chief Compliance Officer and Supervising Partner for Regulatory Compliance at Aldridge Pite, she counsels financial institutions of all sizes, including banks, mortgage lenders, brokers, and servicers, consumer finance companies, and institutional investors on regulatory compliance matters.

About Aldridge Pite

Aldridge Pite is a multi-state law firm with offices in Alaska, Arizona, California, Georgia, Florida, Hawaii, Idaho, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Texas, Utah, and Washington, and represents a broad array of regulated entities. Aldridge Pite’s Atlanta office is a short walk away from the financial technology innovation hub dubbed “Transaction Alley,” home to the majority of financial technology firms.